President: Ladies and gentlemen! Before we part, let me remind you that the interest for our cause must not be forgotten until we meet again. Let us, in the meantime, work for Dannebrog and Dania's welfare. Let us therefore endeavor to conduct ourselves in such a manner that Dania and Dannebrog members will always be known as highly respected members of the community, bringing light and sunshine to the well and sick, not alone in our Society's narrow circle, but wherever we find deserving Danish and American women and men. Also, to promote the Danish heritage and customs. For as we sow, so shall we reap. If we, with willing hearts, fulfill our duties toward another, then our harvest will be our countrymen's respect and confidence, and thereby, our Societies will prosper.

The meeting is adjourned.
